Materials & Construction

Aurelio Wave is constructed from premium copper and finished in polished 18K gold plating, creating a structural framework that combines visual lightness with exceptional rigidity across its expansive span. The fixture incorporates genuine Asfour crystal elements, individually assembled to form a cascading composition that captures and refracts light with remarkable depth and clarity. Its flowing wave silhouette is engineered to maintain balance across long architectural surfaces while creating a sense of movement and visual rhythm. Every component is carefully aligned and inspected to ensure consistency of finish, crystal placement, and overall structural integrity. The result is a large-scale lighting sculpture that delivers architectural presence while preserving elegance, refinement, and compositional harmony.

ARCHITECTURAL PRODUCT SPECIFICATION

Aurelio Wave transforms light into architectural expression through fluid form, noble materials, and exceptional craftsmanship. Designed for projects where scale must be matched by elegance, it delivers a distinctive visual identity while enriching the surrounding architecture with depth, movement, and enduring sophistication.
