Materials & Construction

The Élysée Candélabre Majestique is handcrafted from solid copper using traditional decorative casting techniques before receiving a precision-applied multi-layer 24K gold electroplated finish. Every sculpted arm, decorative column, and ornamental detail is individually finished and assembled to preserve the symmetry and elegance characteristic of historic French candélabres. Its weighted decorative base provides exceptional stability while maintaining refined proportions, allowing the fixture to perform as a freestanding architectural element within grand interiors. Designed as part of the Maison Élysée Collection, it extends the visual language of classical chandeliers across multiple levels of a space, creating balanced, layered illumination with enduring structural integrity.
