

Élysée Candélabre Régence

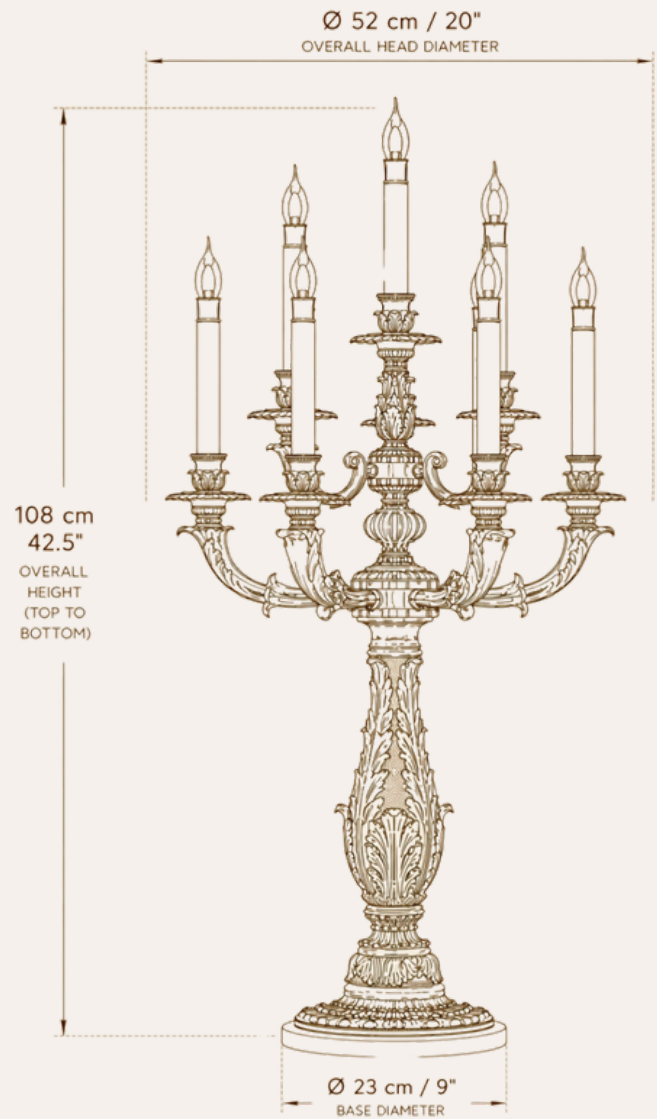

The Élysée Candélabre Régence reinterprets the elegance of French Régence and early Empire lighting through masterful contemporary craftsmanship. Created as a sculptural table lamp rather than a decorative accessory, it brings noble proportion, architectural refinement, and timeless sophistication to interiors where heritage and permanence define true luxury.

Materials & Construction

The Élysée Candélabre Régence is handcrafted from solid copper before receiving a meticulously applied 24K gold-plated finish that enhances both durability and visual richness. Each sculpted arm, candle holder, and ornamental column is individually cast, polished, and assembled to preserve the balanced symmetry characteristic of classical French lighting.

Inspired by the decorative bronze ateliers of eighteenth-century Europe, the candélabre combines traditional craftsmanship with modern electrical engineering. Every component is carefully aligned to create harmonious proportions, ensuring the lamp functions as both a refined light source and an enduring architectural object within distinguished interiors.

ARCHITECTURAL PRODUCT SPECIFICATION

The Élysée Candélabre Régence is created for interiors where lighting reflects architectural heritage rather than passing fashion. Combining classical French artistry with exceptional craftsmanship, it serves as a permanent expression of elegance—bringing warmth, proportion, and enduring refinement to the world's most distinguished residential and hospitality spaces.
