Materials & Construction

The Élysée Grand Candélabre Royale is handcrafted from solid copper using traditional decorative casting methods before receiving a precision-applied multi-layer 24K gold electroplated finish. Every sculptural arm, decorative column, and ornamental element is individually finished and assembled to achieve exceptional symmetry, structural integrity, and architectural presence.

Its weighted decorative base provides outstanding stability while maintaining elegant proportions appropriate for palace-scale interiors. Designed as the flagship standing candélabre within the Maison Élysée Collection, it extends the visual language of grand French chandeliers to floor level, creating layered illumination and reinforcing the rhythm, balance, and grandeur of monumental spaces.
