Materials & Construction

Solaris Cometa is handcrafted from premium copper and finished with an 18K gold-plated surface that provides durability, structural strength, and a refined architectural appearance.

The chandelier incorporates precision-cut A+ grade lead-free crystal elements arranged in a disciplined linear composition. Each crystal prism is carefully positioned to maximise light transmission, optical clarity, and layered reflection while maintaining visual balance across the entire fixture length.

The combination of noble materials, engineered construction, and artisan assembly creates a lighting object that performs equally as illumination and architectural sculpture.
